TAKE TWO GAMES FROM KANSAS CITY BY DECISIVE SCORES.

Sutthoff and Kellum Pitched Good Ball—Wolfe No Longer a Terror—Louisville Lost—Scores.

Indianapolis, 5—Kansas City, 1
Indianapolis, 9—Kansas City, 0
Milwaukee, 3—Louisville, 2
St. Paul, 11—Columbus, 1
Minneapolis, 7—Toledo, 3

One tally was all the Kansas City team could carry away from Washington Park yesterday afternoon in the double-header with Indianapolis. A combination was played against the visitors that completed the sweet work of revenge and the Hoosiers bagged both games by scores of 5 to 1 and 9 to 0. The last game of the last series with Kansas City surely ended in a blaze of glory and the fans were wishing that Gear's outfit could stay here awhile longer so that Indianapolis could keep padding the game-win column. The threatening weather probably kept a large number of people away from the park, but the 3,000 fans who took chances with the weather had things coming their way all afternoon.

They witnessed the double defeat of the team that dislodged Indianapolis from first place in Kansas City early last week; they saw Sutthoff and Kellum pitch wonderful ball; they witnessed the downfall of Gibson and relished the manner in which Wolfe was given his "bumps"; they saw the Hoosiers do phenomenal fielding, with Kellum leading the red fire work with a one-hand catch in left; they saw Orville Woodruff bludgeoned when he was presented with a $50 check from Watkins and Ruchaupt as a wedding gift and also saw the little third baseman give a full value received for the compliment; they saw O'Brien jolly Thiel in the second game, causing the latter to make some very yellow errors. The crowd was so much in the money that it was like looking at a three-ring circus—there were so many things that all can't be mentioned.

The Hoosiers were right in the game, and always ready to take advantage of the slightest grogginess that was shown on the part of the visitors. They afforded excellent support to the two pitchers—Sutthoff and Kellum—and made nearly all of their hits secure in the run column. After winning the first battle the Hoosiers felt no terror when Wolfe was assigned to the slab. Wolfe has been a stumbling block for Indianapolis, but the Hoosiers have learned to hurdle his puzzling curves, and can get away with a game when he pitches as he usually does as they can against any other twirler.

TRIPLES IN FIRST GAME.
With the exception of two wild throws by Beville in the first game the support given Gibson was perfect. He allowed the Hoosiers only six hits, but four of them were triples and arranged that they get quite a large figure in the result of the contest. Sutthoff pitched wonderful ball in the first half of the afternoon's entertainment and but three hits were made off his delivery. Sutthoff always was unfortunate when giving free tickets to first, and one of his passes gave the visitors their only tally.

The first affair started by both teams being easily retired in the first inning. Sutthoff pitched a starter in the second inning and a shiver crept over the crowd. When Nance scored on McGraw's single after being sacrificed to second the spectators were treated to a beautiful fight, but it didn't last long as Indianapolis took the lead in the third and maintained it throughout the game. Kellum led one over Wolfe's head for 2-1, and Heydon singled, scoring Kellum. Heydon was sacrificed to second, and after forced Kellum, Heydon was sacrificed to third. Fox made a bluff to puffer second and Heydon scored. The brace of tallies placed the crowd in good humor and nothing serious occurred during the remainder of the afternoon to rouse the spectators.

PAST FIELDING.
Both teams worked hard and fast fielding prevented the score from changing until the last of the seventh, when Indianapolis added two runs. After Coulter fouled out Kellum drew transportation and was shipped the rest of the way around the circuit when Heydon drove one down the third base line for three bases. Sutthoff scored Heydon with a single to center. The Hoosiers made their last run in the eighth, when Kellum hit a home run, and reached third on Beville's wild throw. O'Brien failed to connect, but Coulter hit for three bases.

Kansas City made desperate efforts to score in the eighth, when Thiel led off with a double, but the next three men were easily retired. There was a regular bonfire finish in the ninth. Kellum made a remarkable one-hand catch of Grady's short fly to left and Coulter batted Nance's difficult fly. O'Brien failed to hold Lewis's fly and then Grady singled, but Kellum forced him at second and the game was over. The score:

THE SECOND GAME.
Bill Wolfe's face as he walked to the box in the first inning of the second game looked like a magazine advertisement for a tooth paste as he showed his white teeth and grinned at the Hoosiers. After the game he looked like a "before taking" picture. He tried to terrorize the Indianapolis boys, but it was no use, and the Hoosiers did much business with his benders. Kellum was the noble lad who mixed up an assortment of Baseball Notes.

Kansas City plays an exhibition game at St. Louis to-day.
The Hoosiers had a great fondness for three-baggers in the first game.
The Tishlingmages defeated the Champion Amateurs yesterday by a score of 39 to 8.

After Heydon's strike out in the eighth inning of the second game he made three hits.
Good-bye, Kansas City: take care and don't let the Hoosiers give you the same dose of Indianapolis.
The fans are getting to have confidence in Coulter when he goes to bat. His willow work lately has shown great improvement.

The only points behind Louisville. The finish promises to be very exciting and the game this week will be watched with interest.
There were many brilliant plays in the two games. Kellum, Coulter, Kellum, and in fact nearly the entire team contributing some sensational work.

A team from the Vories Business College defeated Charles Mayer's team yesterday at Anderson. The game teams will play again next Saturday.
The Hollenbeck Press team defeated the Uggell Ladder Works team yesterday by a score of 10 to 0. Fletcher, Fletcher and Tinker; Minkler and Lotshaw.

It is said the Kansas City team cast with hopes of getting into the championship race. Wonder what the Blues think after the four straight defeats here?
Indianapolis will play an exhibition game at Anderson to-day with a team of that city. Sydney Merryman, a new pitcher of Covington, Ind., who joined Watkins's team yesterday, will pitch for Indianapolis.

A meeting of the Southern League will be held at Chattanooga to-morrow to settle the question of the new franchise at Memphis, where Babb alighted after hurling his Indianapolis contract, is the chief topic.
Commercial League games to-day: People's Outfitting Company vs. Blocks (two games). Forest Park vs. Wabash vs. Star. Park vs. Fairview Park. Marotte vs. Libbers. Driving Park; Postoffice vs. Kahns. Capital City Park.

Sutthoff and Kellum could hardly have pitched better ball than they did against Kansas City yesterday. Three hits off Sutthoff and four off Kellum in the two games show that the Blues were not successful in solving their curves.
It pays to get married during the championship season, providing you are popular. An unmarried man on the Indianapolis team are now looking for wives. A set of silver check for $500 and a diamond ring and a big silver dollar have been donated to the team.

The Indianapolis Superiors won from the Young Hustlers and the A. C. team yesterday by scores of 13 to 4 and 7 to 3. The Superiors want games with any team after sixteen years of age. For game telephone Halford Broyles, 1388 either phone.
The players of the rival teams in Milwaukee have taken the matter of a post-season series in hand, and will arrange it through the medium of a committee from each team. It is planned to play a series of three games, playing at both parks and under different rules. The players will play for 50 and 50 per cent. of the receipts, the winners taking 60 per cent. and the losers 40 per cent.
